Stands Guard Over a Young Negro.

Whose Trial Is In Progress At Norfolk, Va.

ENRAGED PEOPLE THIRSTY FOR THE PRISONER'S BLOOD.

JURY'S FAILURE TO CONVICT

Would Result in an Attempt to Llynch the Boy, Whose Victim Died from an Explosion.

Norfolk, W. Va., Aug. 5.—Militia from Fredericksburg arrived at Montross this morning to guard John Lomax, 18, the negro assaulter of Miss Susie Costenbader, whose trial is in progress today. Miss Costenbader, who was assaulted some time ago, was burned to death last week as the result of an oil can explosion, and the only evidence against Lomax now is the identification of the prisoner by the girl just before her death. Enraged people are thirsty for the negro's blood and should the jury fail to convict, lynching will follow unless Lomax is carried out of the country under military guard. A clash between the military and the enraged farmers is threatened.

IN A BEAR PIT

Indian Threw His Prisoner and the Brutes Reached for Him All Night Long.

Akron, O., Aug. 5.—Handcuffed and shivering with fear, while two big bears reached for him with their noses and sharp claws, Johann Vaelinski spent Sunday night in the bear pit at Silver Lake, the prisoner of an Indian. Pete Boy is a full-blooded Iriquois who was recently brought from the Canadian wilds to do police duty at the Silver Lake resort. Late Sunday night he discovered three prowlers among the cottages, and with a war-whoop pounced down upon them. Two escaped, but Vaelinski was caught. He could speak but little English, and, regarding him with suspicion, the redskin bore him away. The bear pit was the only place of confinement at hand, and into the entrance, a two-by-three-foot passage way, the prisoner was pushed. He screamed with terror as the bears all but reached him, and Pete laughed to see him. For seven hours Vaelinski remained a prisoner, frightened nearly to death. Monday when he was released it developed that he and his companions were on their way to Kent from Cuyahoga Falls, and had got lost in passing through Silver Lake Park.

STRIKE

On Ironton Division Is Again On.

No Cars Will Be Run At Least For The Present.

SHENANDOAH GIVEN ANOTHER BAD SCARE

EIGHTH REGIMENT AROUSED,

But Nothing Came of the Incident—The Huntington Strike Settled This Morning.

Ironton, Aug. 5.—The street car strike on the Ironton division of the Camden Inter-State railway company, lines is again on and not a wheel is turning. At an early hour this morning a message came from Huntington, W. Va., reading as follows: "All cars must be left in the barns this morning and until further notice." (Signed) Williams, Jacobs, Board Members of Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees.

Your correspondent was informed at the company's office this morning that there would be no attempt to run cars until the trouble across the river is definitely settled. The experience of Sunday warned the company of the futility of attempting a service with non-union labor. There was no trouble on the line last night. This morning the strikers have out their cabs and are giving the public transportation between Coal Grove and Hanging Rock through this city. At 8:15 this morning a car on which was Sheriff John Haney, passed through Ashland, Ky., being the first since early Monday afternoon. It was not molested as very few people were on the street but it is certain that they will not be permitted to operate.

Ironton, Ohio, Aug. 5.—A committee of the strikers drove around the city this morning and collected from the night crews on duty last night the receipts of the cars, which were turned over to the company's local superintendent, with an itemized report.

THIS STRIKE IS OFF.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 5.—The street car strike was settled at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The terms of settlement are practically the same as those agreed upon at Ironton yesterday. This agreement refers to all the divisions of the road.

SIX ARRESTS MADE.

Shenandoah, Aug. 5.—Supported by 100 soldiers who held back the hooping crowd, deputy sheriffs arrested two men implicated in Wednesday's riot. Six arrests have now been made.

SHENANDOAH'S SCARE.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 5.—This city was given another riot scare last evening. Two drunken brawlers in the first ward near the scene of Wednesday night's trouble, furnished the excitement. In an extremely short space of time, the immediate vicinity was crowded with people until the origin of the trouble was learned. The soldiers dispersed the gatherings and the brawlers were arrested by the civil authorities. The Eighth regiment was given another little scare after taps last night. Prowlers were discovered about the regimental stables but before any stones could be thrown the sentry fired. The entire camp was aroused but nothing came of the incident beyond further illustrating the efficiency of the regiment to get under arms promptly. 3 bodayis S sr ifhig -I twyp uly

FACING

Firing Squad Of His Own Comrades.

Guardsman Fell in Faint When Rang Out.

THE WHOLE AFFAIR SUPPOSED TO BE A JOKE.

MILLMAN SENTENCED TO DIE

When Tried by a Mock Courtmartial, but the "Rooky" Thought it was Real.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Facing a firing squad of his own comrades, with his eyes blindfolded and his mind fully convinced that he was condemned to die, Private Millman of Company H, Seventh Infantry, I. N. G., fell unconscious Monday at Camp Logan when he heard the rifles, loaded with blank cartridges discharged.

Last night he was a patient in the camp hospital, the victim of one of the series of practical jokes that have been perpetrated upon the "rookies" of the second battalion since it entered upon its summer school of instruction.

Private Hillman had been before a mock court martial on the previous night, charged with sleeping at his post while on guard duty. Hillman was found guilty. He was confined in the guard tent over night, and repeatedly impressed with the idea that he was to be shot at sunrise. He accepted his fate in all seriousness and passed a sleepless night.

The sun was just peeping above the lake when Lieut. Gallery called Hillman out of the guard tent, and told him to prepare to die. His hands were tied behind him, and under the guard of eight soldiers he was marched to a remote part of the camp. There he was blindfolded after he had seen the eight men drawn up in line before him with their rifles.

"Squad lead," commanded the Lieutenant.

"Ready," came the command a few moments later, and Hillman swayed in his efforts to stand erect.

"Fire," and eight rifles cracked together.

At the command to fire a soldier who had silently approached Hillman dashed a bucket of cold water against his chest. Hillman dropped as if pierced with eight bullets, and then everybody laughed uproariously.

A minute passed and Hillman failed to move. The laughter ceased as suddenly as it had begun. Hillman's comrades crowded around him and found him in a dead faint. He was hurriedly taken to the hospital, and after considerable effort revived. It is said, however, that it will be days before he can recover.

CRAWLED

Through a Hole in the Wall Made by an Explosion—Sixteen Prisoners Escaped.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 5.—Just before locking up time last night there was a loud explosion in one of the wings of the new main prison, six miles from the city, and in less time than it takes to tell 16 convicts, led by Gus Hyatt, a bank burglar, had crawled through a hole in the wall about the size of a man's body and made their escape.

Others were ready to go out when the guards appeared and stopped them. Ed. Carney, one of the most notorious robbers in the prison, was killed by one of the guards.

A large force of prison guards, Deputy sheriffs and police are now chasing the escaped men. It is reported that three have been captured.

"WEED"

The Staff of Life For The Inmates.

Would Rather Do Without Pie and Cake.

TOBACCO IS BADLY WANTED BY POOR FOLKS AT INFIRMARY.

CRAWLED ON KNEES FOR SMOKE

Others Ready to Cut Out Meals Entirely if Authorities Will Furnish Tobacco

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 5.—The investigation of the management of the County Infirmary has been resumed by the County Commissioners, the inmates being permitted to testify to the charges of badly cooked food, offensive odors and other alleged abuses, and incidentally the rule depriving them of the use of tobacco. James K. Ball, a keen-witted paralytic, complained of the tin pans on which the food was served, and exhibited a sample, taking from under his coat an old tin pan, rusty in the center, and from which a greasy odor exuded. He added that since charges had been formulated plates had replaced the tin pans and new tin cups were now used.

All of these, however, were of minor consequence, in the judgment of the witness. "What we want is our tobacco," said he. "It is a pity to see those poor old men crawling around out there begging for a chew or a smoke."

"If one throws a chew away another grabs it from the ground and chews it a second time. My poor old father is at the county farm with me, and I sometimes fear he will go crazy unless he gets his tobacco back. Like in James Whitcomb Riley's poem, we would rather do without pie and cake than do without tobacco."

One of the commissioners asked if fruit was not served occasionally. "Oh, yes, we get fruit," said Ball. "We got two bananas on the Fourth of July and two apples on Christmas, and then we got some other fruit on New Year's Day. We got turkey on Thanksgiving. Sometimes now we get dried peaches and dried apples. But what we want is tobacco. Take two meals a day away if you want to, but give us back our tobacco."

Ball illustrated the craving for tobacco by referring to "Billy" Davis, a quaint character in the institution. "Billy comes into my room," said the witness, "on his hands and knees (he always crawls), and he says, says he: 'Gimme a pipe of tobacco. I haven't had a smoke today, dog on the luck.'"

Other witnesses also criticised the food, but all were unanimous in begging for a return of tobacco, and some of them clapped their hands when Wesley Jordan said: "I ain't got no kick coming except on the tobacco question. Take my meals, every one of them, and give me back my tobacco. That was my only joy."

It was brought out that the tobacco privilege had been withdrawn because some of the inmates had violated the rules by smoking in bed. All of them declared that the lesson had been a severe one, and if tobacco was restored there would be no more infringement of rules. While other witnesses are to be examined, taken from the inmates of the institution, it is believed that the Commissioners will restore the use of tobacco, and the paupers will retract anything that they may have said if this be done.

We wonder if the Advocate is in favor of the municipal ownership of electric railroads? — American-Tribune.

A DEFICIT FOR JULY.

The official report of receipts and expenditures by the federal government for the month of July are of exceptional interest because that was the first month since the repeal of the "war taxes" went into effect.

The receipts were about $49,300,000 and the expenditures $56,800,000, leaving a deficit of $7,500,000. Secretary Shaw is cheerful in spite of this deficit. He explains that the expenditures at the beginning of a new fiscal year are always very heavy. He cites as an example of the extraordinary expenditures in July the item of $3,000,000 paid to Illinois and other states for the equipment of troops during the civil war.

This item does not serve at all to explain why expenditures are always heavy in July. It is rather an indication that congress appropriated money with extraordinary extravagance during the late session. And such was the fact. The total was enormous and there will be extraordinary outgo during the remaining eleven months of the fiscal year as there was during the first month.

A collapse is coming sooner or later. Probably there will be a small surplus this year, but congress will have to stop going on the assumption that the boom is everlasting and that there is no bottom to the pile in the treasury, or it will have something harder than a surplus to deal with. The crash will come.

SENATOR TELLER.

Senator Teller's affiliation with the Democrats was made complete when he entered the Democratic caucus of the senate, and his recent decision to leave the question of his reelection wholly with the Colorado Democratic state convention shows that his entrance to the Democratic caucus was only the preliminary to his campaign for another term. His long experience and prominence in the senate are likely to secure for him the coveted re-election. No other Democrat could be sent from that state who would command Mr. Teller's influence in Washington.

FITZGIBBON REPLIES

To the Assault Made Upon Him by Gil C. Daugherty in the American-Tribune,

And Makes a Candid, Frank and Truthful Explanation as to Bringing the Law Suit Against County Commissioners Pigg and Holton,

By Which It Will be Seen That Licking County's Able and Fearless Prosecutor Will Prosecute the Case to the End to His Best Ability.

He Proposes to Discharge His Duty Fearlessly and Fully and is Not Actuated by any Motive to Derive Political Benefits for Himself.

An Advocate representative called upon Prosecuting Attorney James R. Fitzgibbon to ascertain what reply he had to make to the statements in Gil C. Daugherty's interview published in the American-Tribune of Monday night. Mr. Fitzgibbon displayed perfect willingness to talk fully and frankly upon the subject.

"I saw the Gil C. Daugherty article in Monday night's American-Tribune," said Mr. Fitzgibbon, "and aside from the self-exploitation indulged in by himself, it contains some things which I think best to answer now.

"In the first place, I wish to place myself fairly and squarely before the people of this county, in respect to the lawsuit against Commissioners Pigg and Holton, and my connection with it. The people should know the facts and I have no desire nor intention to conceal them. The American Tribune article says in one place that the suit was brought by me simply as a political move to make votes, and would be dismissed after the election. Then it says that I was forced and coerced into filing the petition. It would be difficult to reconcile those two points of view.

"Shortly after I was appointed Prosecutor, Mr. Guttridge came to see me in reference to this suit. He explained to me the nature of the action he desired to bring. It was for the excess over what he thought contract work should be done. For instance, if the Commissioners let a contract for a 20-foot bridge span for $200.00, he claimed the work should be done for $100.00 or $50.00 a foot. The action as he desired would be brought to recover back the difference between the contract price paid by the Commissioners, and what he said the work could be done for, that is, $100.00 in this case. I told him that I doubted whether an action of the kind he described could be maintained. I said to him that I would look into the matter, and I did so. I examined authority after authority. I spent several weeks in this search, and no where could I find a case parallel with the one he desired to bring, and I have not since, though I have continued my investigations.

"However, there is a statute in this state which reads as follows: Sec. 856. 'No commissioner, shall directly or indirectly, be concerned in any contract for work to be done or material to be furnished, for the county, under the penalty of not exceeding $2,000, nor less than $200 to be recovered by a civil action in the name of the state for the use of the County; and such Commissioner shall moreover forfeit any compensation he was to receive on such contract. Anything in the same to the contrary notwithstanding.'

"I read this law to Mr. Guttridge and told him that in my opinion that action should be followed. I said to him, 'You bring me proof that either of those Commissioners have been concerned in any contract and I will bring an action under this statute within 24 hours.' He said 'I cannot do that. I cannot show that both or either of them has ever been interested in any contract.'

"Sometime after that he told me that another lawyer, other than Mr. Daugherty, an attorney for whose legal ability I entertained the highest regard, said that the action could be brought in the manner he wanted. I brought. Knowing that law suits are the results of differences in opinion among lawyers, as to what is the law, I told him that if that gentleman said that the action could be maintained, that I would bring it. That gentleman so decided and the law suit is brought.

"Now, I am free to say, that I didn't want to bring this action at this time. My reasons were that a suit of this nature out of which so much misinformation and misleading statements are sure to arise, should not be brought in the heat of a political campaign. It should not be a political law suit. Politics should cut no figure in it. For my part I didn't want to give it any political phase whatever. It is a suit in which the tax payers should be interested, without regard to politics, and for my part I didn't want to make any political capital out of it for myself. Neither did I want to see anybody else make political capital out of it. For that reason I told Mr. Guttridge that I would bring the suit immediately after the election. I do not wish to reflect on Mr. Guttridge, but some of the items composing this suit, date back to the year 1898. Mr. Guttridge is now on his last month as County Commissioner. He has been in this office for over six years last past. It seemed to me that if he could wait until the last month of his term of office, he could wait until after the election. He brings this suit, not as a County Commissioner, but as a taxpayer, and as such it could be brought at any time within ten years. Mr. Guttridge told me that it would be the best move politically for me that I could make. That it would be the means of getting the hundreds of votes, and the same tempting assurances were held out to me by his attorneys. I told him and them that while it might be to my personal advantage to bring this suit, it was not advisable to mix a suit of that character with politics if it could be avoided. I believed then and now that the successful prosecution of the suit would be better assured if it had no political aspect. That was my reason for desiring to bring the suit after the election and not before.

"Mr. Daugherty said that all the data was furnished me by the attorneys of Mr. Guttridge, and that my work in drawing the petition, could be accomplished in one half a day. Of course, I will concede that a lawyer of Daugherty's transcendent ability would be able to do this, but I don't think that any other attorney would care to prepare a petition of 17 pages typewriting against ten or twelve defendants, in so important a law suit in that short a time.

"I will say that the data furnished me by Mr. Guttridge and which Mr. Daugherty said was prepared by his attorneys, if followed by me would have forced me to amend my petition as soon as the Court saw it. It would be open to a motion to separately state and number causes of action and other dilatory pleas. I wished to avoid that and told Mr. Guttridge that he would have to furnish me additional information. This was done in days before the petition was filed. In the preparation of the petition alone, I spent nearly a month's time. I wanted to make as strong and as invulnerable a petition as I could with the material at hand, and I have the assurance of good lawyers who have examined it, that this has been accomplished.

"I have taken this length and space in order to place my position in this action fairly before the people. I want to say that this law suit is brought by me and will be fought to the end to the best of my ability. I know my duty and will do it. I will try the case without regard to politics, and politics shall cut no figure in the trial. I will hew to the line, let the chips fall where they will. The Courts will have full and complete opportunity to say whether those Commissioners have done wrong or not."

FOR HOUSE WEAR.

Negligees Are Growing More and More Elaborate.

Negligee attire is growing more and more elaborate. Indeed fussiness is essential to almost every up to date garment. At present it is possible fortunately to copy the most costly models at a comparatively small outlay, so lightly wrought robes and jackets are the rule. A potent aid in much of this copying is the abundance of cotton fabrics made in imitation of silk. All the light mercurized goods have been made available for house gowns, negligees and the like, and while not a few of these are worthy of really fine trimmings there is no end of inexpensive things which will set them off nicely.

Many white lace materials are utilized for tea gowns. Most of these are made according to empire designs and trimmed with dainty laces. White tea gowns are stylish in dainty laces and muslins trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion. Some are made with Spanish flounces tucked or trimmed with lace. Others have plain gathered ruffles having with embroidered bandings lined with pale colored ribbons run through.

The illustration shows a very pretty dressing jacket. It is made of checked lawn ornamented with a fine design. The fullness is gathered into a square yoke. The fronts and bottom are banded with plain silk. The sleeves are cut Chinese fashion and also banded with the silk.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Why the Kaiser Wants Our Quail. A Berlin dispatch says that Emperor William has given orders to stock his game preserves near Potsdam and Berlin with American quail as an experiment. The emperor is quoted as saying that he wants American quail because, like American citizens, they are satisfied with their surroundings, while German quail, like a great many German citizens, emigrate every fall.

Its season never comes to an end, for the proprietors of its hotels do not reckon upon making the profits of one season carry them over to the next. There are over 1,200 hotels and cottages, some magnificent in detail, others less pretentious, where the rich can find luxury and the humble be comfortably provided for. The splendid esplanade, or boardwalk, lines the entire city along the ocean front. The surf bathing which has made Atlantic City famous, is one of the wonders of the world. The sight during the bathing hours defies description; men, women and children in bathing costumes of varied hues form a picture to be seen only at Atlantic City.

Aside from the seaside features, Atlantic City has amusements of every kind. Great iron piers extend hundreds of feet into the ocean. Buoys may enjoy the comfortable chairs of the pier and listen to the music of the bands throughout the entire day, if he so will it.

Tickets will be available on all regular trains, and will be good for return twelve days, including date of sale, thus giving ample time for an enjoyable outing. Stop-over within limit of ticket will be allowed at Washington, D. C., on return trip.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad follows the Potomac river for nearly one hundred and fifty miles. The Potomac River, indelibly linked with the Fortunes of War.

"All quiet along the Potomac tonight."

Except now and then a stray picket

Is shot, as he walks on his beat to and fro,
By a rifleman laid in the thicket.
But is was not always quiet along the Potomac. For four long years the valley through which the river winds and which now is dream of peace and prosperity, was hotly contested ground for the North and South.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad follows the famous stream for nearly one hundred and fifty miles—from Piedmont, W. Va., to Washington Junction, Maryland—and both river ferries, picturesque and beautiful, lies on the sharp northeastern point of West Virginia, whose rockbound sides guide the gentle Shenandoah to its confluence with the Potomac.

SHREWD VICTOR HUGO.

The Quiet Way in Which He Bullied the Theatrical Managers. Here are the methods which Dumas the elder and Victor Hugo employed when they had a new play to offer to the theater. Dumas would write to the director of the Porte St. Martin:

My Dear Friend—I shall bring you on Monday a play in five acts. I shall need Mlle. Georges, Mme. Dorval, Bocage, Lockyer, Provost and five new scenes.

This extravagance would alarm the director, who would put off the production of the play till better days. Then Victor Hugo would appear and shyly draw a manuscript out of his pocket. He would agree to everything. The stock company would play his piece admirably, since all he wanted was a good ensemble; no new decorations would be needed nor any change at all.

So the piece would be read, and as the roles were distributed Hugo would say musically, "Dien, how fine Frederick would be in that part?" "That is true," Horel would murmur, and a few days after he would announce that Frederick was engaged. Hugo would then remonstrate that this destroyed the equisite of the cast and Raucourt, Laferriere and Mlle. Georges would be engaged. Then Hugo would attack the stage setting. Old scenes, that the public had tired of, were almost an insult to these great artists. If Horel showed reluctance at this, Hugo would threaten to withdraw his piece. And so the game would go on, till, little by little, Hugo had obtained everything he wanted, even to changing the paper hangings in the stage boxes.

An Amusing Pet.

A box turtle is an especially amusing pet. A correspondent tells of keeping one in a large but shallow box filled with sand to the depth of four inches. The box was covered with wire netting and contained a large dish of water, plenty of fresh moss and growing ferns. In the winter the turtle was allowed to roam around the house, as I have seen them in schoolrooms. This correspondent gives an amusing account of the manner in which the turtle went downstairs, falling from step to step, each time landing on its back. After a struggle he would turn over and then try the next step as before. Arriving on the ground floor, he always made his way to the kitchen and established himself in a corner near the kitchen fire.

This reminds me of an anecdote related by Dr. Abbott. Of a box tortoise he writes:

I followed and found him still traveling in a direct course and was just in time to witness a funny scene. The steep bank of a deep ditch had been reached, and the tortoise was contemplating the outlook. It was too abrupt a descent for ordinary crawling, and to go in search of a more easy crossing seems not to have been thought of. At last, leaning over the edge as far as possible, the creature withdrew into his shell and sent himself by a sudden push of his hind feet head over heels down the incline and landed on his back. * * * Was this accidental or intentional? I think the latter. The whole manner of the tortoise seemed to indicate it.—St. Nicholas.

Good Advice From Small Elsie.

A certain small Elsie was receiving a visit from her young neighbor Ralph, with his nurse. Ralph misbehaved, and the nurse admonished him after the manner of her kind. "The dog will bite you," she said, and Ralph began to cry. Elsie looked on, troubled. She knew there was no dog in the house, but she was a little afraid to combat this strange nurse's assertion. But she saw a way out of her dilemma. "Don't cry, Raffle," she said resolutely; "wait till the doddie comes," which was the wisdom of Solomon and Shakespeare combined out of the mouth of a three-year-old. What an amount of weeping would be banished from the world if everybody would "wait till the doddie comes" before he began his tears.—New York Times.

A Clever Donkey.

A few mornings ago after a night of severe wind and rain a workman was aroused by a scraping sound at the door of his cottage. On looking out he found the noise was made by a strange donkey. He drove the animal away three times, but it returned each time and at last added to the previous noise a plaintive moaning, showing as plainly as it was able that he was to follow it down the road.

He did so and on reaching a clump of thick brushwood saw a little foal entangled, which he immediately released. The mother donkey showed the greatest delight, licking and fondling the little captive whom she had helped to rescue so wonderfully.

Rats and Mice Easily Destroyed.

Some years ago my attention was called to a granary in Maryland under which a large number of rats had burrowed into the ground. The building was double, set on posts raised about eighteen inches above the ground, with a driveway between. The earth underneath was completely honeycombed with burrows. Two pounds of carbon bisulphide were secured. Wads of cotton varying in size from a hen's egg to one's fist were saturated and thrust into every burrow that opened on the surface. The holes were securely closed. Only in two instances were the holes opened by their occupants, and these were quickly destroyed by a second dose. Wherever a burrow is found about any building it can be treated in the same way.—American Agriculturist.

NEW FOUNDRY.

The James E. Thomas Company Proposes to Build One in Newark or Near Pittsburg—More Room, More Capacity Needed Than Present Plant Provides.

There have been persistent rumors in the city for some days that Newark was soon to lose one of her thriving and established industries, in the proposed removal of the James E. Thomas Company, manufacturers of ingot molds, from Newark to Pittsburg.

The loss of this industry would mean much to the city, and to find out the true status of the matter an Advocate reporter called at the foundry this morning to get at the facts of the case. He was courteously received by Mr. Edward Thomas, who very graciously gave him some information, which it is a pleasure to communicate to the citizens of Newark.

"It is true that we have had some very flattering inducements to go to Pittsburg for the purpose of manufacturing ingot molds. I am treasurer, and our firm is a member of the American Ingot-Mold Company of Pittsburg.

"This company is for the purpose of a distributing agency for the ingot molds manufactured by our foundry and the other four firms that are members of the company.

"These firms are the Mesta Machine Company, of Pittsburg; Marshall Foundry Company, of Pittsburg; William Yagle & Company, Limited, of Pittsburg, and the Thomas D. West Foundry Company of Searsville, Pa.

"These foundries maintain their individuality and independence, but dispose of their product through the American Ingot Mold company.

"It may be of interest to know that an ingot mold is. It is as its name suggests, a mold or iron shell, the shape of an ingot, which is filled with molten steel, the ingot being the first form the steel takes. These ingot molds are constantly wearing out, and the demand is perpetual for them. The ingot mold company sells our products to the various large steel concerns."

"Our present plant is not adequate to the demands made upon it, and orders that we are entitled to from the American Ingot Mold Company have to be made at one of the other foundries.

"One of the head men from each of the two largest of the constituent companies of the American Ingot Mold Company, have been in consultation with me in regard to this condition of affairs, and have proposed our going in with them and building a large modern foundry in the vicinity of Pittsburg. They propose to form a

HIS EXPERIENCE

He scoffed at signs and tokens, a belief in which, he said, was but proof of weakness. Which, manifested, gave him pain and grief. But which he could not listen to with meekness. In fact, he said, it always made him hot. To hear grown people talk such tommyrot.

Wherefore he took a contrary delight. The superstitious ones he met in shock. Things that would give most of us quite a fright. He spoke of in a manner worse than mocking. He always made it one of his chief boasts that he had never been afraid of ghosts.

When he spilled salt, he scorned to throw a pinch (Bad luck averted) over his left shoulder. To omens he would never yield an inch. I'm very sure no person could be bolder. In dressing there is very little doubt He turned his nose if put on wrong side out.

But retribution followed, for one day He broke a mirror. It was quite a large one. I'd hate to pay the bill he had to pay. You know how awfully sometimes they charge one. He said with fervor that he had been "stuck" And owned that time the breaking brought bad luck.

Then—this, I think, was also rather quaint—That morning he walked underneath a ladder. The man above upset a pot of paint. Which, falling, made the man below much madder. And (circumstances sometimes so combine) The painter then was working on a sign.

Indoors he raised a fine umbrella next—Bad luck, of course, but he'd show he despised it. The name was on the inside, and, quite vexed. The rightful owner saw and recognized it.

The thing was rather awkward to explain. He'll pause when tempted to do that again. Well, things like that just happened right along. I did not say, I think, that day was Friday—The worst of all the week. I may be wrong. But I would never pick that day for my day.

He said at last—his pride had had its fall—There might be something in it after all.—Chicago Daily News.

stock company with the James E. Thomas Company as one of the members, and build a mammoth ingot mold plant for the manufacture of this kind of work exclusively. If this plant is built I will go to Pittsburg as manager.

"There is another way out of the difficulty and one which the James E. Thomas Company is disposed to adopt, if we can see our way clear. That is for our company to build the plant in Newark, independent of any other men or company. This is our home and I should like to remain here.

"The matter resolves itself into the following proposition: More room and capacity must be gotten. A big new plant will be built, either in Newark by our company or in Pittsburg by us and the other two companies.

"Should the plant be built in Newark it would mean a great deal to the city. It would be a plant that would cost, with equipment, about $100,000 for the manufacture of ingot molds exclusively. The present foundry would be devoted to other work, or if necessary conjointly with the new plant manufacture ingot molds.

The buildings would be of steel, equipped with electric traveling cranes, motors to run the machinery, and all other modern and efficient agencies. It would be a plant heavy enough, and of capacity sufficient to meet any demands that could possibly be made upon it.

"We are now in communication with architects for plans of the proposed buildings, with crane manufacturers and others, to whom will be delegated some part of the details of construction, should the plant be built at Newark.

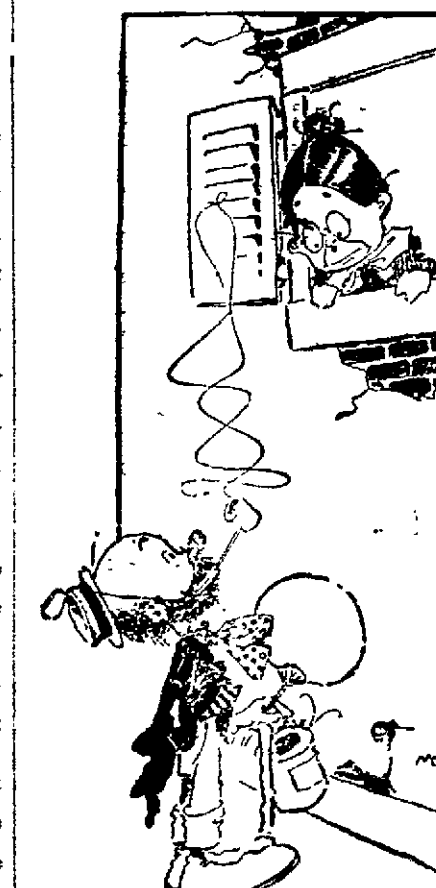

"In any event, if we go to Pittsburg or remain in Newark, the present foundry will continue in this city as in the past. Other work will be done, as there is plenty of it, and even should we go to Pittsburg, the city will at least be no worse off, while if we locate here, you can see yourself, the benefits accruing.

"It is a question of more room, more capacity, more business and as I said before, our company is disposed to build the new plant in Newark if we can see our way clear. In any event the present foundry will remain in operation here, and my father, Jas. E. Thomas, will also continue to live in Newark. I will go to Pittsburg in case the new plant should be located there."

A Bird That Cannot Fly.

Who knows of a bird that cannot fly? Even a tame goose can fly, though very awkwardly. But I know of one, the auk, who cannot fly at all, for his wings are too short, and the poor fellow's legs are so short and are set so far back that he can hardly walk. Now, then, does he get about and find his food? An old Irish sailor nine years ago explained that "all their walkin'" was done by swimmin'. Their broad webbed feet are good oars, and their short wings are useful paddles. "They get over the ground by swimmin'", which is the best way for him, seein' the ground where they live is mostly water."

A WORD TO THE GREAT ARMY OF SUMMER TOILERS

If You Are Not as Robust, Vigorous and Happy as Others in the Month of August

PAINE'S
Celery Compound

Will Give You Health, Full Energy, and Happiness.

Many men toiling in offices, stores and workshops during this hot summer weather, and women weighed with the work and cares of home are critically near the breaking down point. The symptoms of coming sickness and disease are manifested in sleeplessness, nervousness, tired feelings, languidness, irritability, failing appetite and poor blood circulation.

Paine's Celery Compound is a precious boon to the ailing, sick and run-down in this August weather. A bottle or two used at once will quickly bestow the needed strength to battle against the weakening and enervating effects of the oppressive heat, and will enable men and women to go through the necessary routine of daily toil with heart, soul and energy. Paine's Celery Compound is specially distinguished for its ability to build up rundown systems in hot weather.

Mr. George W. Demarest of 218 West 67th street, New York, says:

"I am a licensed stationary engineer, and although my work is not very laborious, I suffered so intensely with severe pains in my back and kidneys that I was compelled to leave my work and remain at home for six months. I suffered greatly with headaches and soreness in chest and lungs, and my joints became very stiff. I actually felt I was doomed to fill an old man's grave at the age of thirty-two. As a last resort, I used two bottles of Paine's Celery Compound when I was able to resume my work, and after using the third bottle, I am in perfect health. The value of Paine's Celery Compound is inestimable and I urge others afflicted as I was to use it."

A Good Plum.

Among the more newly introduced Japanese plums that have been sufficiently tested to determine their commercial value in diverse locations perhaps none has attained to the rank occupied by the Red June plum. It is a strongly marked variety, ripening well in advance of abundance and standing the rough handling of commercial transportation. Though not of highest quality in a fresh state, it cooks well and forms an excellent substitute for the damson when canned or preserved.

Taking His Father's Place. General Banks relates that when early in the war he was ordered to Frederick he had to leave his family at Baltimore. They went with him to his train, and as he bade his wife a tender goodbye he said to his little son, then only five years old, "You must take good care of your mother while I am away." Acting immediately on his instructions, when the car conveying them stopped for them to alight, the little five-year-old quickly hopped off and gallantly extended a hand to his mother to help her off just as he had seen his father do.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Pastor and Farmer's Lad. One of the parish sent one morn—A farmer kind and able—A nice fat turkey, raised on corn, To grace the pastor's table.

The farmer's lad went with the fowl And thus addressed the pastor: "Plume me if I ain't tired! Here is A gobbler from my master."

The pastor said: "Thou shouldst not thus Present the fowl to me. Come, take my chair and for me act, And I will act for thee."

The preacher's chair received the boy, The fowl the pastor took, Went out with it and then came in, With pleasant smile and look.

And to his young pro tem, he said, "Dear sir, my honored master Presents this turkey and his best Respects to you, his pastor."

"Good!" said the boy. "Your master is A gentleman and scholar! My thanks to him, and for yourself Here is half a dollar."

The pastor felt around his mouth A most peculiar twitching, And to the gobbling holding fast, He "boiled" for the kitchen.

He gave the turkey to the cook And came back in a minute, Then took the youngster's hand and left A half a dollar in it.

DON'T OVERLOOK THIS.

A Careful Perusal Will Prove Its Value to Every Newark Reader.

The average man is a doubter, and there is little wonder that this is so. Misrepresentations make people skeptics. Now-a-days the public ask for better evidence than the testimony of strangers. Here is proof which should convince every Newark reader:

Mr. C. W. Manville, 257 West Main street, says: "The la grippe left my kidneys in bad condition. They did not secrete properly. At the same time I suffered terribly with pains in my back over my kidneys. I just about gave up trying anything in the hope of getting better, when the natural desire to test a well recommended medicine, I started using Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at Crayton's drug store. The results were decided and lasting."

WHISTLED TEXT IN PULPIT.

Pastor Imitated the Notes of the Meadow Lark.

Whistling his text was a new method that Rev. Vaughn S. Collins employed in the service in the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church at Smyrna, Del. says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Dr. Collins' new method was rather startling to his congregation, for he is considered one of the most dignified members of the Wilmington conference and for several years was president of the Conference academy at Dover. When it came time to preach the sermon, Dr. Collins arose in the pulpit and whistled four times, each note being an imitation of the song of the meadow lark.

The preacher said that on a recent visit to the country he heard a meadow lark, and it suggested a very appropriate sermon, as he likened the song of the bird to the text, "I have heard the voice of the Lord in the thirteenth verse of the sixteenth chapter of Genesis. Following the whistling of the text Dr. Collins preached an eloquent sermon and pointed out to his hearers how God saw and heard repentant sinners.

CAMP M'KINLEY

Boys Had Some Trouble Keeping Warm Monday Night.

Governor Makes Tour of Inspection of The Big Camp.

And Then Watches the Drills—Camp Now in Full Running Order—Little Sickness—Social Events in Fourth—Major Rogers Talks to Brigade Officers—Notes of the Day.

Camp McKinley, Aug. 5.—The first night in camp for the members of the Second Brigade of Ohio National Guardsmen was not one of joy. The mercury had taken a sudden drop and the boys by using all the blankets in sight and their clothing too weren't able to keep warm. Fortunately however, the sick calls were few this morning and all the ailments reported were of a minor character.

Governor Nash was up bright and early and said that he felt very well in spite of the chilly night. Mounted on "Cotton Allen", the famous prize mare at Arlington, the Governor accompanied by Surgeon General E. C. Brush from Zanesville, rode through the big camp and received a cordial handshake from each of the officers. The Governor rides a horse well and Fourth, Fifth, and Seventh each. Major Rogers who is here representing the United States army, gave the officers a very interesting talk last night on the new emergency ration which has recently been adopted in the regular army. The ration is composed principally of grates beef and parched wheat.

General Corbin, U. S. A., is in Ohio, and it is expected that he will visit the camp during the week.

Lieut. Price of the Cleveland Engineers, is in charge of the detail which is looking after the telephone service at camp. The Lieutenant is the youngest 32d degree Mason in camp.

Lieut. Auxer of the Fifth regiment, while coming into camp Monday afternoon was thrown from his horse, al brigade review for him and for Gen. Dick, who is expected in camp at any hour.

The newspaper men may succeed later in getting the governor to talk shop, in other words, municipal code, but unless they do better than they have done thus far, failure awaits them. When Dick comes and the politicians begin to drop in, something along political lines may be let loose, but not yet. When the Advocate man last night mentioned "code" to the governor he turned to Surgeon General Brush who was sitting by his side and asked to have the officer of the guard called.

THE REAL THING TODAY

Owing to the unexpected delay in the arrival of the men yesterday, Monday was productive of no results. The Engineers, who came Sunday, had a busy time of it and the Fourth and Eighth regiments had an evening parade, but the others were kept busy preparing to live in camp for a week. Today it was different. This morning saw everything in its right place and every man in his right position. From the first bugle call this morning it has been the "real thing" and no mistake.

Edward Poese, Company B, of the Engineers, fell from a scaffolding, badly cutting his head yesterday, but he was on duty again today.

CAPTAIN WERNER TALKS.

Captain Werner, Company F, Eighth infantry, from Akron, was much chagrined over the press reports from Akron yesterday purporting to give accounts of the trouble between the men of his command and the Akron police before the company left for the Newark camp. The news of the trouble had reached the ears of Gen. Speaks before the arrival of the Eighth, and when Company F reached the ground, the commanding general at once sent though the goods largely came from the Fleck & Neal wholesale grocery.

SERGEANT DEEDIM HURT

Sergeant George Deedim, quartermaster sergeant of Company G of the Fourth while returning from Newark Monday night, was tarred from a load of supplies for the cook tent and severely injured. He was removed to his quarters and the surgeon from the Brigade hospital called and the necessary medical attention given him. He is now resting easily.

FOURTH'S SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

The officers of the Fourth regiment will entertain a number of officers of the Brigade and several invited guests from Newark with a dance at Idlewild Park on Thursday or Friday evening.

Monday evening Col. Coit detailed a squad of twenty men to put up a large pole in front of the officers headquarters, on which an arc light has been placed. It is here that all the social functions of the Fourth will be held, which will include a reception on Wednesday night for the Newark Lodge of Elks, the Newark Board of Trade and the Spanish-American war veterans.

CAMP NOTES.

Surgeon General Edmond C. Brush of the Ohio National Guard, of Zanesville, arrived in camp Monday afternoon and will remain during the tour of duty of the Second Brigade.

Major Titus of Marion, commanding the Third battalion of the Fourth, who has been quite ill at his home, was well enough to come to camp with the regiment, although he still suffers considerably at times.

Asst. Surgeon, Captain Stirling B. Taylor of the Medical Department of the Ohio National Guard, who has been assigned to duty with the Fourth infantry, has been detailed for the camp for duty at the Brigade hospital.

Hospital Steward John Richards of Columbus, is on duty at Brigade hospital.

Private George Kelsey of Company M of the Fifth regiment met with a severe accident Saturday, but was on duty with the command when it arrived in camp. Mr. Kelsey while attempting to climb a tree fell and was badly bruised.

Private Ellicott of Company B of the Engineer battalion was overcome by the heat on drill and had to be taken to the Brigade hospital.

The field piece and the care of the post flag have been placed in charge of Major John R. McQuigg of the battalion of Engineers.

The battalion of Engineers of Cleveland have the well known Kirk's military band of that city with them in camp and every evening the band will entertain the battalion visitors with excellent concerts.

The Governor has received a letter from Brigadier General Moulton, commander of the First Brigade of the National Guard of Illinois, in which the General with much regret, declines an invitation of the Governor to attend the camp of the Second Brigade of the Ohio National Guard.

Mrs. Mac Lee Wilson and two daughters of Columbus, are the guests of Major Mac Lee Wilson, Asst. Adj. General of the brigade.

The Misses Bess Watson of Delaware, and Clara Markinson of Columbus are the guests of friends in the camp.

Captain Vincent, commanding Company B of the Engineers was in the camp of the First Brigade and was in charge of the telephone service.

Ed Poese, Co. B of the Engineers, fell from a scaffolding and quite badly cut his head. He was in Brigade hospital Monday and returned to duty today.

The Seventh has with them the famous Tomlinson's Military Band. Mr. Ed Coyne of Newark will be with the band during the camp.

Surgeon General Brush arrived in camp late last evening and this morning held an informal consultation with the medical officers of the Brigade.

Major Blizzard of the Second Battalion had the Fourth regiment out on regimental drill this morning.

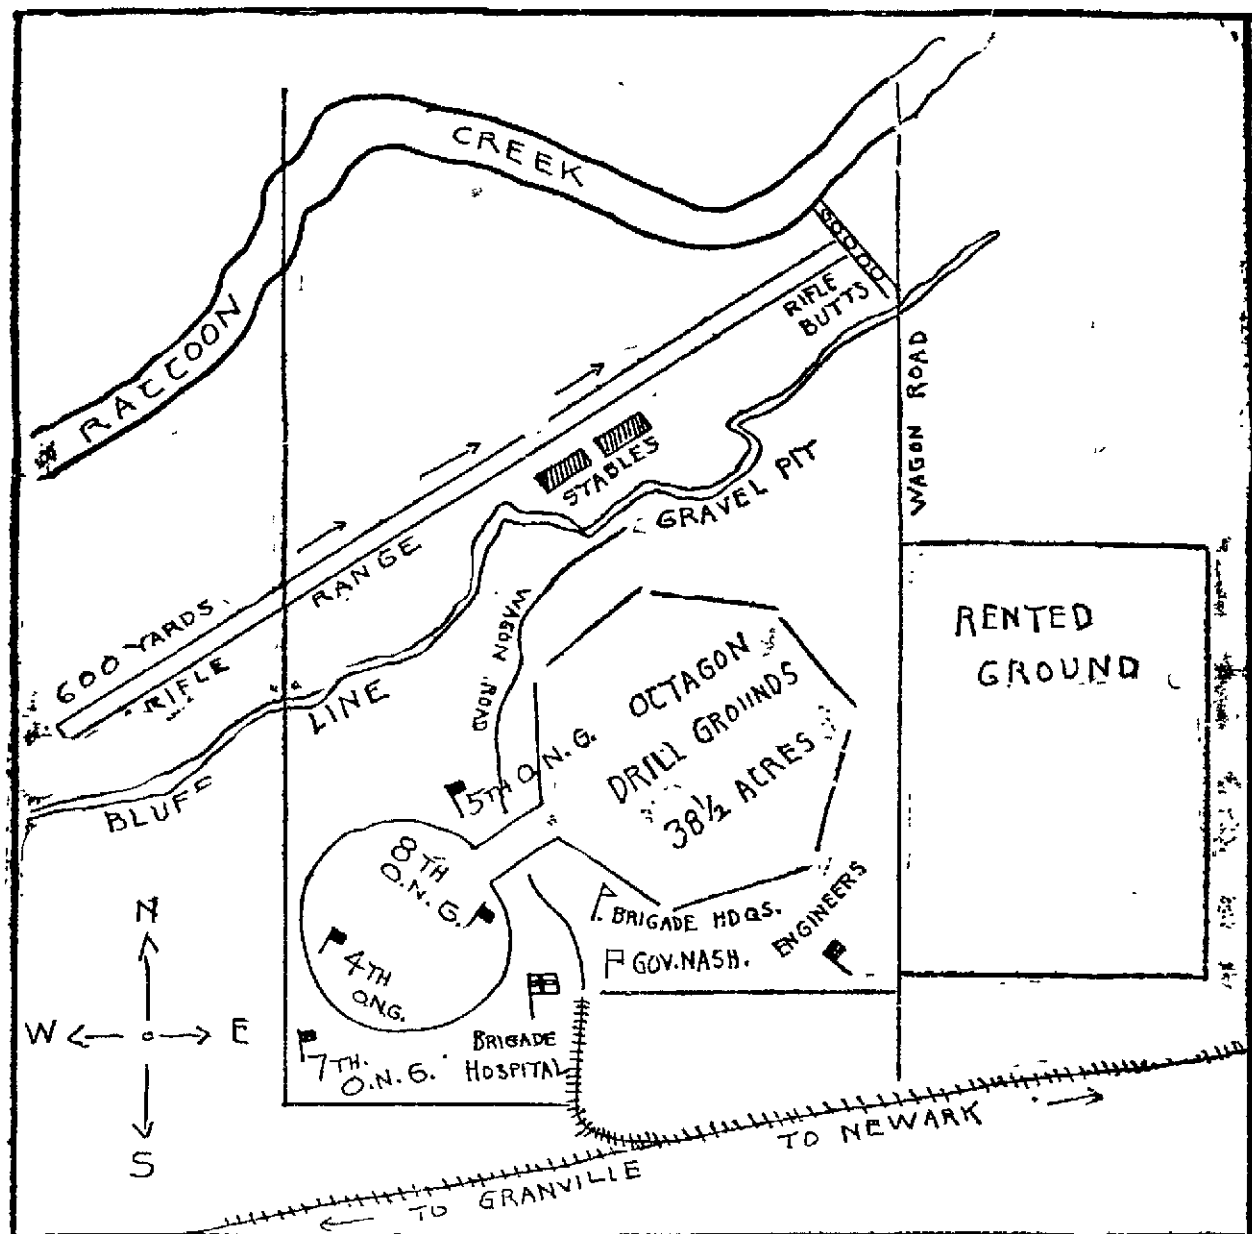

Capt. Chas. W. Miller, Capt. Carlos B. Allen and Capt. F. G. Steele of Newark, called on the Fourth last evening.

Private Isaac Jenkins of Co. E of the Fourth, is in Brigade Hospital suffering from tonsillitis.

The electric light plant now furnishes 33 arc lights and over 70 incandescent lights.

On the way to camp today Private Jenkins of Co. E, of the Fourth, was taken sick with a severe attack of tonsillitis, and upon arriving at camp was sent to the Brigade Hospital.

clad in a fatigue uniform he looked the ideal soldier in this initial tour over the ground. Part of the staff of General Dick and that of the Governor accompanied the chief executive in his rounds. When the party returned to headquarters, the Governor expressed great satisfaction with the conditions of the camp, and the appearance of the officers and men.

This morning the Engineers finished stringing the telephone and telegraph wires over the ground, giving the headquarters instant communication with every part of the camp ground.

ON THE RANGE.

The Eighth infantrymen went over to the rifle range this morning and many of the men made good scores. They finished the day's shooting shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon. General Speaks intends to send men from one of the regiments over to the range each day and those making the best scores will be entitled to compete for the medals and honors later on.

The details of the day in the medical department are:

Captain and Assistant Surgeon John B. Alcom is detailed with the Seventh, Capt. H. B. Bertolette with the provost guard, Acting Steward Wm. Farquhar with the Fourth infantry, and two privates with the which reared back and then fell. The Lieutenant suffered a sprained ankle which will unfit him for duty for several days.

Company M, Fourth, has over 30 men who are veterans of the Spanish American war and all are members of the Association of foreign service veterans.

The officers of the Fourth will entertain a number of officers of the Brigade and several invited guests at a dance at Idlewild park Friday evening.

Major David Stern, assistant inspector general of the brigade, is here to assist in the regimental inspection. The Major was the Lieut. Colonel of the Fifth O. V. I., during the war with Spain.

Governor Nash with part of his staff witnessed regimental drill this morning.

GOVERNOR MUM ON CODE.

Governor Nash, whose arrival was announced yesterday, has already proved to be popular with the boys in camp. The governor learned how to "soldier" when he spent a week here last month with the First Brigade and the informality which he maintains and the interest he takes in the minute details of camp life, please the boys. The governor will witness dress parade at each of the regiments separately and there will also be a general for Captain Werner for an explanation. The Captain quickly set himself square with the brigadier general and the company was permitted to go down to Newark to assume duty as provost guard.

Captain Werner held that but one man in his command had been guilty of any violation of the law and he said that the trouble at Akron had been magnified. This one man, Corporal Clarence Hui and two men from B company, had been arrested, but the officers thought it would be bad policy to make the whole company suffer for the shortcoming of one member and so they were allowed to proceed with the provost guard duties. The F boys are showing themselves to be good soldiers and are doing splendid work at Newark. The officers in camp all speak in the highest terms of Captain Werner and his company, and there is much regret that the shadow of suspicion should be cast upon the command.

A slight error was made yesterday in announcing the list of provisions furnished the big camp. C. L. Conrad secured the contract for furnishing the groceries, not Fleck & Neal.

HIS OLD DAY.

There were six or eight men talking about a dogfight when I entered the drugstore in a Dakota town and asked for epsom salts, and the druggist seemed deeply interested. He fussed around and put up a package and was giving no further heed to me when I asked:

"Did you put up salts or arsenic for me?"

"Salts, of course," he replied.

"You'd better be sure."

He opened the package, touched his tongue to the contents and said:

"Yes, it's arsenic, but I'll have the salts in a minute."

"I don't think I care for any."

"No? All right. Beg your pardon for the mistake, but you see, we've just had a dogfight and my dog got licked, and I'm interested in learning if he had a fair show or if somebody kicked him as he had just got a good hold!"

Not For Him.

"I don't see the sense in paying $50 for a panama hat."

"No, of course not; you're a politician."

"What has that to do with it?"

"Well, the weave of a genuine panama is so exceedingly close it would be almost impossible to talk through it."

TONGUE BROKE

Mr Fleming Was Thrown Out of Wagon and His Right Leg Was Caught in Wheel

Nathan Fleming, a well known farmer near Hanover, was severely hurt in an accident to his wagon Thursday morning between seven and eight o'clock.

He was driving south on Second street with a load of hogs for Miller & Howell. When going down the hill on the south side of the railroad track, the wagon tongue broke, and the wagon swerved to the side and struck a telegraph pole. Mr. Fleming was hurled out and in falling his right leg was caught in the front wheel. It was badly lacerated and sprained, and he was also painfully hurt about the head and shoulders.

on Monday afternoon.

In the Fourth regiment the Chaplain has inaugurated a little ceremony at the close of the dress parade which is something new, in giving the regiment the evening blessing.

On Monday evening the Fourth regiment with dress parade, not all the equipments of the regiment having arrived.

Notwithstanding the Fifth regiment did not arrive until a late hour, dress parade was had at 5:15 o'clock, and was witnessed by a large crowd.

Major Titus of Marion, has in his command the companies E, L, K, and D.

The third battalion is in command of Major A. W. Reynolds of Columbia, and was formed by six companies, five of whom were from Cleveland, while the sixth was from Brooklyn Village, a suburb of Cleveland.

The first commander of the regiment was Col. Allan T. Brinsmade. In the latter part of 1877 four new companies were added to the regiment, making it a ten company organization. In 1880 through lack of interest, several of the companies were mustered out, and in consequence on March 22d, 1881, the regiment was disbanded and the field and staff mustered out of the State service.

The regiment has several times been called upon to protect the property of the citizens of the state and bus and consists of companies A, B, C and D of that city.

In Major Blizzard's command is a brand new company, consisting of sixty men, from Washington C. H., under the command of Captain Hersey, and of which the Major is very proud.

In the Fourth on Monday Captain Oyler of Co. B, of Columbus, was Officer of the Day, and the Officers of the Guard were Lieut. Armstrong of Co. L, and Lieut. Pratt of Co. I.

One of the new features in the Fourth is the placing in front of each tent a flag staff, the flag bearing the company letter and the regiment.

The Fourth is divided into three battalions, as follows: Major Elmer Jim Dumps was a most unfriendly man, Who lived his life on a hermit plan. He'd never stop for a friendly smile, But trudged along in his moody style Till "Force" one day was served to him— Since then they call him "Sunny Jim."

"Force"

"I have lately been using 'Force' and find it the most palatable of any cereal food I have ever tried. The only trouble with it is that it is so delicious one never knows when to stop eating."

prived the command from its first and only chance for service on foreign soil.

Under the second call for troops the regiment was recruited to its full strength and two more companies were added, Co. B and I of Cleveland.

In September the regiment was ordered home and on September 8th, camp at Ferdinandina was broken and left for Cleveland and were mustered out on November 5th, 1898.

Think What it Means

TO THE THOUSANDS SUFFERING FROM

Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Troubles, Impoverished Blood and General Exhaustion.

During the last year thousands of Americans have flocked to Germany, to avail themselves of the wonderful curative powers of the Lander

Traubenkur or Grape Cure

The fame of these cures for such diseases world-wide and the astonishing results have been recognized by physicians the world over. There can be no doubt or quibbling. The grape cures have restored to health many thousands of Americans. Their absolute worth is no longer a question.

It has remained for an American Chemical Co., the Lander Medicine Co., of Rock Island, to combine all the best elements of the Traubenkur

MULL'S GRAPE TONIC

and it has now been placed on general sale throughout America in drug stores at only 50 cents per bottle, so the suffering of all classes have the full benefit of these great curative agents.

Think what it means to you if you are suffering from any of these troubles. It is the most important development in a medical way in America for a decade.

WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

LOUIS BONHART, of Lawrence, Neb., says: "I have been afflicted with stomach trouble for the past three years. At times it grew so severe and annoying that I was compelled to quit work for two or three days each week when the pain in my stomach was beyond endurance. I took but three bottles and am today perfectly well. I used nothing else but Mull's Grape Tonic. To me it is more than worth its weight in gold."

If you are suffering from dyspepsia, constipation, liver or kidney trouble, or nervous exhaustion you owe it to yourself to give Mull's Grape Tonic a trial. The cost is small and you will be astounded and gratified at the results. Our faith in it is so absolute that those who buy it and use no benefit may have their money back.

If used with a little chopped ice it will be found a delicious drink.

SUMMER IN DENVER.

CYCLING AT SUNRISE IN SIGHT OF PIKE'S PEAK.

If There Be on Earth a Real Garden of the Gods, It is Here—Where Women Vote and Hold Office—Sunshine
All the Year.

(Special Correspondence.)

Denver, Aug. 5.—Three cities of the United States are each claimed to be the most beautiful in the land—namely, Washington, Detroit and Denver. The people who live in Denver are sure their town holds the palm, and they make the additional claim that it possesses the handsomest and most comfortable hotels in the country. Some travelers incline to believe they are right in this.

As to the beauty of Denver, likewise its exceeding healthfulness, there is no dispute. When one gets a mile above the sea, the heavy low levels of malaria and smoke are far below. Men alone is able to carry his disease and wickedness up to the higher plane, and even he, if his depravity has struck in on him deeply, prefers the valley and lowland to the mountain tableland.

The never an American city is the more up to date it is in all the conveniences of living. Wide streets, picturesque vistas, electric lights and trolley lines belong to the west rather than to the east in America. Denver, the beautiful, has all these. In the early time many aspiring and highly cultivated women came to Denver from all parts of the land. They came to better themselves in the new gold country, and they did so. From the first these were public spirited and took lively interest in all measures for the betterment of the city.

When full suffrage was conferred on Colorado women, of course their power was increased, and they have used it wisely. One lady, a physician, was for several years chairman of the building committee of the board of education.
So, then, Denver, peopled in the main by a class above the average in intelligence, with women citizens going in with enthusiasm for improving and beautifying their city, with one of the richest gold producing districts of the earth very near it, with the glorious air from God's Rocky mountains sweeping through it—this Denver is as near a paradise as any spot on which man has laid his polluting finger.

Would you taste bliss? Rise here at 4 o'clock in the morning. Look out of your window and view Pike's peak darkly outlined far away on the eastern horizon. Then prance upon your bicycle and go to meet the sun as he rises.

CASCADES IN ST. LOUIS

Novel Feature Planned For the World's Fair.

THE DETAILS OF THE DESIGN.

Large Pumping Capacity Is Proposed, With Electric Effects Behind the Fall of Water—Spectacle of Wonderful Beauty Promised. The Cascades Will Have a Fall of Eighty Feet.

Work on the one of the most unique of the exposition features was begun the other day when the surveyors of the engineering department of the St. Louis world's fair began taking the grades on Art hill to determine the exact cut and fill that will be needed for the cascades and relative features, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The surveying work was preparatory to the letting of the contract for the necessary removal of earth.

From descriptions of the work which is to be done at St. Louis given by Director of Works Isaac S. Taylor, it is evident that the amount of money to be expended on the hill will exceed the cost of any other single feature or, in fact, any one feature of any other exposition. The manner in which the cascades are to be kept supplied with clear water and the devices adopted for producing illuminating effects are of the greatest promise. Among the things mentioned are a crystal cave back of the cascades and arrangements by which the water, descending at night, will have all the hues of the rainbow, with an infinite combination of those colors.

The chief feature of the cascades will be a sheer drop of from twenty to twenty-five feet, back of which plate glass will be so disposed that a chamber will be formed from which the illuminating effects may be operated. At this point also there will be a stationary group of nymphs and maids and a cavern of crystal. During the day the falls will be simply a descent of limpid water, but at night, when the color effects are turned on, a spectacle of wonderful beauty is promised.

In conjunction with the cascades a pumproom is to be established for the operation of the water. For this the interesting plan has been arranged of excavating a cavern at the base of the hill, setting well back into the earth. Here a pump station will be inaugurated, the motive power to be electricity furnished by wires connecting with the electric plant on the grounds. Nine pumps, with a capacity of 15,000 gallons of water per minute, will be operated. The water will be pumped to the top of the hill and allowed to descend by the force of gravity, when it will be again forced to the top. In this way the supply will be kept constantly moving, and the only loss will be from evaporation. Mr. Taylor says that the pumproom will be concealed from sight, but that it will be so arranged that visitors may be shown the operating of the cascades by special entrances.

The plans of Director of Works Taylor regarding this main feature have been considerably developed. The three cascades planned, one at either end and one in the middle of the long slope of hill, will exceed any waterfall ever planned, it is said, eclipsing the cascade of the Trocadero at the Paris exposition, the cascade at St. Cloud and the Chateau d'Eau at Versailles. The cascades will have a total fall of eighty feet. This fall will be divided into a series of descents in each cascade.

OUTING FOR Y. M. C. A. BOYS.

Montclair (N. J.) Youths to Camp in Fine Style in Maine.

Nearly 100 boys from prominent families in Montclair, N. J., left town the other afternoon for Maine, where they will go into camp for a month, says the New York Times. They are under the management of F. R. Armstrong, the head of the boys' department of the Montclair Young Men's Christian association.

Their camp is named after President Gladding of the Montclair association, and is on Moody island, near Friendship, Me. The equipment is superb. The tents are 12 feet by 12 feet, double-roofed. The dining pavilion is 35 feet by 70, and with its huge fireplace will serve as a last resort in inclement weather.

A fleet of twelve rowboats and a war canoe will be in charge of the boat-keeper. On a hill above tide-water will be pitched the tents in a circle. On the second open space is built the dining pavilion. The baseball diamond occupies the third open space. A tennis court will be available, and cricket will also be played.

A Challenge to an Author.

Miss Jordan's recently published "Tales of Destiny" has been more provocative of interested discussion than any of her previous volumes, says Harper's Literary Gossip. The two stories in the collection that call for most comment seem to be "In the Case of Dora Risser" and "A Collaboration." Some see in the latter tale a spendthrift use of material that would have made a successful novel, while others regard its prodigality as the surest sign of Miss Jordan's prolific imaginative powers and promise of greater work in fiction. One New York editor, remarkable for his sound judgment, was heard to say the other day that "A Collaboration" was not only one of the best stories he had ever read, but dared Miss Jordan herself to better it. It will be interesting to observe how Miss Jordan accepts this challenge.

Baseball Affairs.

Tenney of Boston leads the first base men of the National league in the batting department. Jack Doyle was at the top of the fielding averages up to the time he severed his connection with Andy Freedman's organization. Now Hugh Jennings, the lawyer player, has the honor, with a percentage of .386.

Harry O'Hagan is the poorest batting first base man in the league, and his work with the stick since he left Chicago has deteriorated several points. Of the Chicago National men who have filled the first base corner this season Clark, the new man, has the best record up to the present time. Arthur Williams is next, and Dexter is down near the bottom of the list.

Bransfield of Pittsburg and McCreery of Brooklyn are the only first base men who have occupied the position steadily since the opening of the season. Bransfield is credited with the most putouts and McCreery comes next.

Brown's Hard Turt Luck.

Captain S. S. Brown, the Pittsburg millionaire, has experienced much hard luck in his turf ventures during the past two years. Last season Meridian, considered the best two-year-old in his stable, was kicked by Hyphen and had to be destroyed. Early this spring Garm Hermann, for whom Captain Brown paid $20,000, turned roarer, and recently the two-year-old filly Martie Lewis, by Sir Dixon-Lady Wayward, who was thought to be the best filly of the year, died suddenly.

Galvin's Promising Youngster.

Colonel James Galvin believes that he has a very fast trotter in the two-year-old Colonel Mosby, which he purchased at the Forbes farm sale at Readville last fall. The two colonels recently negotiated a half in 1:20 to cart over a half mile track. Colonel Mosby is by Bling, 2:06 1/4, out of La Jola, by Advertiser, second dam the great brood mare Sally Benton, whose record, 2:17 1/2, was when made the world's mark for four-year-old trotters.

Lehigh's Football Coach.

A three years' contract was executed at a special meeting of the Lehigh University Athletic association whereby the services of Dr. S. B. Newton, formerly physical director at Lafayette, are secured to coach the football eleven at Lehigh. Dr. Newton will take the football team in hand on Sept. 1. Coach Newton already expresses satisfaction at the prospects and expects to turn out a first class eleven at Lehigh.

International Tennis.

The international tennis matches to be played Aug. 6, 7 and 8 on the grounds of the Crescent Athletic club at Bay Ridge, New York, are attracting a deal of interest. The pick of English champions is to compete against our exponents of the game, and it is generally believed that the tournament will produce the best tennis playing ever witnessed in America. An interesting feature of the games will be the presence of President Roosevelt, who has promised to attend.

The American representatives will be Maletch D. Whitman, former champion of America; William A. Larned, present American champion; Dwight F. Davis, and Holcomb Ward. Whitman and Larned are to appear in the singles, and Ward and Davis, the national and international champions in doubles, will appear for Uncle Sam in their specialty.

The English team will consist of R. F. and H. L. Doherty and Dr. Joshua Pim, all of whom have held English championships in various branches of the game. The Dohertys recently won the doubles championship of France.

Dwight F. Davis of St. Louis, the doubles expert and also a singles player of high class form, is a typical millionaire sportsman. He is the donor of the international challenge trophy, which is to be competed for at Bay Ridge, and aside from his prominence in tennis he is a poloist and a golfer of no small ability.

Where the World's Conference of the Young Men's Christian Association Will Soon Be Held

Norway is supposed to spend three months every year, occupies the most beautiful and commanding situation in the city at the head of the principal street, but is an ugly structure, built in 1841, of brick and stucco and painted a gloomy orange. The parliament house, which they call the storting, or "great meeting" place, is likewise a homely structure of brick, without ornamentation, though the grounds and fountain in front of it are attractive and refreshing to the eye. In striking contrast to these are the new National theater and Masonic temple, which are fine examples of modern architecture.

The theater was built about three years ago and is considered as much of an educational necessity as the university, which stands upon the other side of the street and furnishes facilities for about 1,200 young men to obtain a free education. The faculty includes fifty-five professors, some of them being men of universal reputation. There are libraries and art galleries, museums of art and archaeology in connection with the university, and under the care of the archaeological department are the two viking ships which were found buried in the clay on the coast of Norway, one in 1807 and the other in 1880.

Among the chief objects of interest aside from those I have already mentioned are the supreme court house and the house of the bishop of the Lutheran church, which are imposing structures. The Lutheran faith is the dominant religion of Norway, and there are here many fine churches.

Christiania has a population of 250,000, which is rapidly increasing, and an annual commerce of more than $25,000,000. Formerly its trade was almost entirely confined to lumber, herring, sardines, matches and beer, but it is now becoming very much of a manufacturing center. Engine works, cotton and paper mills and other industries have developed rapidly of late.

The people are rich and prosperous. The residences, constructed in the French style of brick and stucco and lined off in imitation of stone, are quite imposing. The shops are large, and the goods they contain indicate the luxurious tastes of the people.

The city is founded upon a rock and lies around the shores of a beautiful fjord which is dotted with islands, where rich citizens have their summer residences. Little steamers that are puffing and tooting around among them all the time furnish frequent and rapid transportation, as the electric trolley cars do upon the land. Back of the town is a stately group of mountains covered with groves of pines, which are utilized by the pleasure loving population for parks, beer gardens and picnic grounds and by invalids, who are few in number, for sanitariums. A sanitarium in Norway is not necessarily a hospital, but a health resort.

But Christiania is not all of Norway by any means, and those who come to the Young Men's Christian association conference should not be content with anything less than a fortnight's tour through the delightful and picturesque scenery of the Land of the Midnight Sun.

Americans will be especially interested in a visit to Bergen, the second city in Norway and the birthplace of Ole Bull, the famous violinist and composer, who spent much time in the United States and for whose people he had an especial affection. The inhabitants of Bergen have erected an imposing statue to the memory of Ole Bull, whom they and indeed all Norwegians regard as the greatest violinist that the world has ever produced.

THE FEMININE MIND.

Some Men Think They Fathom It, but They Are Mistaken.

A man can very seldom tell what is passing in a woman's mind. He talks with another man, and he can follow his processes; he gets his point of view; he can read between the lines; he can make a shrewd guess as to how he came to say that or why he refrained from saying the other, says the Watchman.

But a woman's mental processes are not those of a man. Her mental machinery is geared differently. You hear what she tells you. You can make inferences from it. They will be wrong because you do not know how she came to say what she did; you do not have the clew. Try to guess what she will say next, and you will find that you are all at sea.

The man who says that he understands woman is himself a woman. No man can understand a woman. He may love her. There may exist between his soul and hers that indefinable and celestial sympathy which is the sweetest thing on earth, but he does not understand her.

Her mental operation, her ways of thought, her point of view, will always be inscrutable to him as the mental processes of an angel. Whether women understand each other is not quite certain. A greater part of the delight that men find in the companionship of women arises from their inscrutability. You cannot measure or exhaust them. Their charming inconsequence, as it seems to you, will never cease to puzzle you, and every fresh conversation reveals a novelty of attitude or opinion.

Sermon Censor.

The Rev. Robert Zaring, pastor of a Methodist church of Indianapolis, makes the suggestion that the church appoint sermon inspectors to examine sermons before they are delivered.

with a view to eliminating obsolete, trite or heretical matter, says the Philadelphia Times. He evinces his good faith by expressing a willingness to run the risk of losing some of the contents of his own sermon barrel if only the general public may be benefited.

Wolf Chase For a Thousand Dollars.

Sportsmen in the Chickasaw nation are preparing for a wolf chase on Nov. 10, says a Lindsay (L. T.) dispatch to the Kansas City Star. The hounds will be started on Criner creek. The chase will be a match race for a purse of $1,000 between the Hudspeth pack of Sibley, Mo., and the Birdsong pack of Texas. J. E. Irons of Lindsay, L. T., will handle the Missouri dogs and R. J. Pooley of Texas will handle the Birdsong dogs.

Daring Feat on High Dam.

Civil Engineer Cole, who is employed on the construction of the Wigwam reservoir at Thomaston, Conn., performed a daring feat the other day when he drove a team of draft horses the full length of the dam, which is scarcely ten feet wide and 100 feet high, says a dispatch from Winsted, Conn., to the New York World. Mr. Cole recently made the perilous trip on horseback.

Hunter to Raise Poultry For Accommodation of Reynard.

Charles E. Mather of Philadelphia, the noted fox hunter, proposes to feed the wild foxes on his estate with chickens, says a dispatch from West Chester to the Philadelphia Times. He is now erecting pens in which the fowls will be raised. They will then be permitted to wander about the large place at will, and the foxes will feed upon them as they choose. Mr. Mather has been paying for all the poultry destroyed in the locality by his animals and has now decided that it will be cheaper to rear the food for them himself.

There are altogether about twenty-five wild foxes upon the estate, which comprises several hundred acres. Four dens of little ones are located in a wood there, and recently several more young ones were released by Mr. Mather.
